

Report on International Literacy Day & Himalaya Day

On 8th September every year we celebrate International Literacy Day to make people aware of the importance of the literacy which is a matter of dignity & human rights. As there was Sunday on 8th September, 2024, so the staff & students of PWCIT celebrated International Literacy Day on 9th September, 2024 to mark the occasion. The student of IV Semester Ayushi Aswal had a talk on literacy day in which she informed about the importance of literacy and how it empowers the society.

Every year on 9th September Himalaya Day (also known as Himalaya Diwas) is observed in order to conserve the Himalayan ecology and region. To highlight the importance of the Himalayas and need to preserve them for future generations the staff and students of PWCIT had taken pledge to save the Himalayas.

The aim to celebrate both these occasions was to highlight the importance and create awareness among individuals, communities and societies.
